

For which of the following types of civil proceedings does your court use video conferencing?
(Other responses)

---

---

All of the above

---

Appeals

---

Appellate oral argument

---

At the discretion of the judge

---

depositions on occasion, not used much for civil

---

family matters involving incarcerated parents

---

juvenile delinquency

---

oral argument

---

The judge must approve any use of technology in the courtroom.

---

---

Other civil proceedings governed by statute

---

---

561.031 RSMo

---

both parties must agree

---

general rule allows use as needed

---

Governed by Court Rule

---

none, by court rule

---

Oral Arguments

---

Unknown if it is statutory or rule but it is used for anything except juvenile hearings

---

Video is authorized in civil cases by court rule not statute --Minn. Gen. R. Prac. 131

---

---