

How is privacy of communications between a defendant and counsel ensured when counsel joins the video conference
from a private office or other location?
(Other responses)

---

---

audio/video conference is muted while counsel phones the defendant on the direct line cannot "ensure"

Cannot attend from private office or other location

Counsel is always at the defendant's side

Counsel must be present in the courtroom or courthouse.

courtroom is cleared

depends on the court

Don't know

has not been used, it is brand new

has not occurred

N/A (21)

no other location is possible

none

not allowed

Not possible.

Not sure

not used

not used for this type of communication

Not used in this way.

Please see above

same as above

Standard network security

The video link to the court is dropped temporarily.

There is no provision for ensuring privacy; manipulating the far side camera to view the room which is limited.

This does not occur

This is not an option.

This situation has not occurred.

---

How is privacy of communications between a defendant and
counsel ensured when counsel joins the video conference
from a private office or other location?
(Other responses)

---

---

unable to answer

Unable to do this in our court

Unknown (2)

use is voluntary

Use of video is by mutual agreement of parties

VC not use in Court

we do not have counsel from remote location.

We do not have that capability, yet

We do not have this capability

we have not done this

---

---