

Are private attorneys allowed to use the video conferencing system?
(Other responses)

---

---

anticipated in the future

---

Has been used on a very limited basis, but we are looking to expand the availability. Will charge for usage

---

Has not occurred yet

---

If they use it for private use they pay. If it is to interact with client no

---

May request, but all are video conferenceing is in courtrooms which makes it difficult to schedule

---

only for hearings

---

Only if the system is not being used for court proceedings

---

Usually not required to pay for local or Internet. If ISDN charges are incurred they are required to initiate the call.

---

varies by jurisdiction

---

We have not been asked but the Judge would allow it with proper notification and at no charge.

---

---