

On average, how long does the video conferencing system downtime last?
(Other responses)

a couple of days, just depends when equipment comes in depends on the problem

has not been used, it is brand new

Help Desk would ensure a timely response and resolution

Less than one day

Local IT staff keep A/V operational portable video conferencing and still very new in the court system varies
