POSITION PROFILE

This position supports the Enterprise Data Repository (EDR) program which provides case data to all levels of Washington courts. This position is responsible for eliciting, analyzing, documenting, and validating business needs in order to assist in the enhancement of the EDR and data exchange solutions and the on-boarding of courts and their data into the EDR.

This position works under the general guidance and direction of a supervisor in the Court Business Office under the Court Services Division. The Business Analyst works closely with business and technical staff at AOC, partner agencies, judicial officers, county clerks, court administrators, and other court personnel to produce in-depth business requirements.

DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

- Plan, schedule and lead the management of requirements for complex solutions
- Engage with stakeholders to obtain a full understanding of scope, business needs, processes, and expectations in order to meet objectives
- Analyze data for data quality and data reporting purposes
- Research and perform in-depth analysis for small to large and highly complex applications and systems

- Develop and maintain business requirement documentation
- Translate business requirements into user stories, use cases, and acceptance criteria
- Serve as a liaison between stakeholders and technical personnel to ensure that business needs are clearly defined, understood, and translated into technical solutions
- Develop and maintain requirements traceability matrices for requirement management and re-use
- Review test results to confirm that test acceptance criteria have been met
- Provide consultation to project stakeholders
