Position description

The Ninth Circuit Court is looking for a self-motivated, energetic, and customer-oriented leader to help drive the daily operations of our Audio-Visual department. This is excellent opportunity for an experienced A/V professional to contribute and grow in a very progressive court technology environment. The position will supervise a team of 4 while project managing a multitude of unique and dynamic A/V projects. The ideal candidate will have prior management skills and/or management training and a proven history of successful project management. Additionally, the chosen candidate will have a firm understanding of Cisco Unified Call Manager, Cisco WebEx, Microsoft Teams, Biamp DSP, Court Reporting software such as Veri-Core and For the Record, Wolfvision Visualizers, and other collaboration tools.

This position reports directly to the Audio-Visual Services Manager but works relatively independently scheduling and coordinating the A/V team in the design, installation, and operations of A/V systems throughout the Ninth Circuit. A minimum of 5 years of experience is required. Starting salary: $75,816 to $87,999.60 depending on work experience, training, and education.
